Innovators of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra League

Mission Statement:

The Innovators of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra League provide an opportunity for men and women to support the numerous Education and Community Outreach programs of the Dallas Symphony through service, education, and fundraising.

The Innovators, founded in 1973, is a volunteer auxiliary organization of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra League (DSOL). A special focus of the Innovators is our support of the DSO's Young Strings Program.

Innovators are:

- * Professional men & women
- * All ages, single & married
- * Committed to improving our community

Come join the fun:

- * Attend Behind the Scenes events featuring guest artists from the DSO and performances by Young Strings students
- * Volunteer in the Symphony Store & attend the concert for free
- * Enjoy our annual Affaire de Champagne
- * Support the DSO's season ticket renewal campaign

Young Strings Program

Designed to increase the multicultural diversity of American orchestras, the Young Strings program discovers, develops, and promotes the musical talent of outstanding African American and Latino string players in the City of Dallas, and provides them with the skills and resources necessary to pursue professional music careers.

Founded in 1992 by DSO musicians and board members, Young Strings offers three levels of instruction and currently serves close to 200 students annually.

Beginning students attend general music classes and then progress to semi-private instrumental lessons with highly trained instructors. Advanced students are selected by audition to study privately with musicians from the Dallas Symphony Orchestra, or teachers of an equally high caliber.

And all instruction is provided to students free of charge.
